

WHAT TO BRING TO CAMP

Mainly, bring a smile... but here is what else you will need.

SOME BASIC GUIDELINES

Limit the Amount of Stuff They Bring

Further on in this booklet (and available on our website) is our “WHAT TO BRING TO CAMP LIST”. Remember that it is just a suggested list, intended simply as a guideline. Typical shelf space comfortably accommodates only so much clothing & gear. Camp is all about being resourceful by making the most of having just enough. You are not doing anyone a favour by sending complete wardrobes. Laundry goes out every week and comes back the following day. Therefore, campers only require one week’s worth of clothing.

By limiting the number of bags, we are advising that you pack light. We always advise in favour of sending used well-worn items and against sending designer type clothing or anything of great value. Tamakwa is meant to be a down-to-earth non-competitive environment, where we live in sweats, shorts, jeans, etc. For that reason, we have always resisted recommending any additional purchases for camp. Besides, we are sensitive to the fact that camp is costly enough without asking you to spend any more than necessary to outfit your child for camp. However, if there is one area in particular that we DO advise you to purchase wisely, it is OUTDOOR GEAR...

SOME HELPFUL TIPS FROM OUR CANOE TRIPPING STAFF

At Tamakwa, weather (silver days) is no obstacle for enjoying outdoor living, camp activity, and out of camp canoe trips. When it comes to gear, experience tells us what works and what doesn’t. With a little more thought and approximately the same cost, your children will be better prepared to enjoy the Tamakwa-Algonquin experience.

Life Jacket

Each camper, CIT, and staff member MUST bring a government-approved life jacket to camp that fits properly. Because they’re worn for canoeing, sailing, kayaking, and all other water sports, we recommend the vest type. They allow for more maneuverability than the type that fits over the head.

Sleeping Bags – one per child

Synthetic fibre-filled bags are warm, quick-drying, lightweight, and can be packed into small stuff bags. A three-season bag is sufficient. Huge flannel lined sleeping bags do not dry quickly and they do not fit into packs, please do not send them. Synthetic sleeping bags only.

Rain Gear – have your raincoat in your carry-on bag; NOT in your duffels

Those plastic ponchos that come in the snap-able plastic packages are useless. While we can’t expect anyone to invest in Gore-Tex, a sturdy nylon or even polypropylene coated nylon is best. Good sealed seams are critical. A two-piece set, separate jacket and pants, is highly recommended. Single poncho-style rain gear is ineffective.

Water Bottles

Water bottles are vital for use in camp at day-to-day activities and of course out of camp on canoe trips and cookouts. Having 2 is better than 1 just in case one gets lost. NALGENE, KLEEN CANTEEN or other BPA free, durable bottles work best at camp. PLEASE be sure to put names on them in permanent marker.

Footwear for Trips

Footwear will get wet and muddy. Old ragged shoes do not offer sufficient support. Sturdy walking shoes, hiking shoe-boots or even running shoes are much better.

Socks

Again, on canoe trips out-of-camp where feet can get wet, we recommend wool socks or “smart wool”. For in-camp activity, cotton is just fine.

Dry Bags

These are those strong rubber waterproof bags for packing sleeping bags & personal items on canoe trips and can also be used on cookout days. The absolute best size to purchase is 30 Liters. Seal Line or MEC have been the most durable brands. For this item, it is best to purchase a top quality brand, as these can last an entire canoe tripping career.

MORE TIPS AND GUIDELINES

2 Blank White T-shirts

Silk screening and tie-dying T-shirts is very popular at camp. Every summer there is usually a reason to proudly wear a printed emblem that marks an event, a particular program, a theme day, or sometimes the group's "cabin insignia" in the form of a silk-screened t-shirt. Rather than print this on the back of a regular logoed article of clothing, it's a lot nicer to savor the memory of the summer by printing fresh on a clean t-shirt. We recommend sending two spare and inexpensive white t-shirts that will be reserved just for this purpose.

(TIP: make sure they have name labels and send them in a zip lock bag for safe keeping until needed.)

Soaps & Shampoos

All soaps and shampoos MUST BE BIODEGRADABLE. These are non-polluting soaps and can be purchased at a variety of places. Labels may not list other expressions like "contains biodegradable ingredients"; they must be 100% biodegradable. Using these soaps will help to preserve the Algonquin waters and the environment. This awareness is part of the Tamakwa experience and campers will not be allowed to bathe in the lake if these are brought to camp. Dr. Bronner's, Trader Joe's Refresh, Jason's, Kiss My Face, Desert Essence Organics, Green Beaver, Body Shop Rainforest, Graydon Products, Acure, Hair Rules, and Camp Suds are good options. Suave, Herbal Essence, Whole Foods 365, Ivory and Dove are NOT biodegradable or acceptable. Please NO GLASS containers.

C.A.M.P. Radio

We have a camp radio station (the call letters are C.A.M.P.). Campers may bring a small radio to listen to camp radio in their cabins but we supply them for most cabins.

Musical Instruments

Tamakwa is a very musical place. If you play a musical instrument, feel free to bring it with you to camp for talent shows, plays, and hamming it up in general.

Costumes

Leftover from Halloween, Purim, school plays, whatever... Costumes come in handy at camp for plays, talent shows, special events, and more.

Games

Board games - YES

Anything made for trading or gambling - NO

Regarding Electronic Devices

Camp is about simplicity and enjoying life without all the high-tech gadgets of city life. Electronic devices are just not part of the Tamakwa-Algonquin experience.
