Your face in the firelight,
The moon up above.
Don't know if it's the late night,
Or if it's really love.
I hate to think of next week,
Of next month or next year.
I want to freeze the moment,
Forever staying here.

This is goodnight, it's not goodbye.
Even without you by my side,
I'll still have part of you with me,
And part of us will wait here.
This is goodnight, it not goodbye,
Even if through teary eyes,
Remembering when moments like these,
We're something more than memories.

Days will pass and slowly,
I'll look back with a smile.
'Cuz all we have between us,
is bigger than the miles,
and though we're getting older,
together we'll be young.
The years mean nothing to us
When we share the same sun.

This is goodnight, it's not goodbye.
Even without you by my side,
I'll still have part of you with me,
And part of us will wait here.
This is goodnight, it not goodbye,
Even if through teary eyes,
Remembering when moments like these,
We're something more than memories.

Brontosaurus - Colour War Song 2011

Music & Lyrics By: Jack Allen & Maude Etkin

Captains: Genevieve Hurwitz & Alex Sigel

I'm talking, before time,
Before we were what we are.
I'm thinking, about it,
And you know it's hitting me
hard.

We grow up, we grow old,
Our time is dwindling fast.
I'm thinking about it,
And with you I want it to last.

Waiting, wanting,
The end is drawing near.
I need it, I've got it,
Please don't disappear.

We're lost inside of this,
Can't get out of this,
Never want to go.
Catch me when I fall,
Breaking down these walls,
Together we're not alone.

You tell me, please stay young,
Today and forever more.
These moments are golden,
Just like the glistening shores.

Waiting, wanting,
The end is drawing near.
I need it, I've got it,
Please don't disappear.

We're lost inside of this,
Can't get out of this,
Never want to go.
Catch me when I fall,
Breaking down these walls,
Together we're not alone.

And now I know,
These moments here,
Will keep me warm at home.
Now I see,
There's a reason we were brought,
To this family.

Waiting, wanting,
The end is drawing near.
I need it, I've got it,
Please don't disappear.

We're lost inside of this,
Can't get out of this,
Never want to go.
Catch me when I fall,
Breaking down these walls,
Together we're not alone.

Catch me when I fall,
Breaking down these walls.
Together we're not alone.
